

Inexplicable

Interests stirring do you yearn to burn
Your thoughts wondering do you burn to learn
Clouding over these dark skies gone gray
Looking forward to a brighter, clearer, happier day
Open house and they're selling your things
Your CD collection and your mother's diamond ring
Do you grow strong or do you give up the fight
Come on concentrate before you loose sight

Never ending struggle

Don't know what to do
Holding your breath
Have you nothing to prove
Steadily grabbing anything close
A few more seconds with the things you love most

I'm scared, I'm lonely when I'm not alone
But I think before I act rather than gab on the phone
I hurt inside just like any other being
But sometimes it's a world, a world without seeing
So my path isn't familiar to you
Isn't what I choose to do, but I do
And I try so hard sometimes I cry
But not a day goes by that I wonder why

Now go, I'll go

You always wonder what's wrong with me
Take my word just as much as you everything
And I hate to swear but fuck, enough is enough
Hey, you're pissing me off
